October 3^d 1836

Sir

There is here a general apprehension that the weights, either formerly used by the Banks, or lately imported from Boston, are deficient in weight, and I recollect your having once informed me that the troy pound weight, which I procured in London, was several grains heavier than that formerly used at our Mint. I will therefore thank you for answers to the following queries.

1. What are, as compared with the troy pound weight now used at the mint, the weight of your former standard weight, and that of the several weights in common use amongst Banks, either here, at Boston, or at Philadelphia, which you have had an opportunity to examine?

2. Where are the most correct made, by whom, and at what price (exclusive of the scales) say for weighing altogether 5000, & 3000 penny weights, respectively?

3. Having in this bank a scale and set of weights made at Boston (called Dearborn), is it necessary to send them to Philadelphia in order that the difference may be ascertained and how & by whom is that done?

As we are daily exposed to losses in taking current foreign gold by weight, I would be much obliged to you for an immediate answer to the first of the preceding queries.

I am also apprehensive of some loss in foreign gold

When taken to the Mint, with respect to the standard, which, it seems to me, is postponed by the late law to be nearer what (according to the laws of the foreign countries) it ought to be than it will prove to be. I would wish to know what has heretofore been the result with you, not on the particular assay required by law, but on the large sums deposited for coinage at the Mint since the last law. This may govern us to keeping such foreign coin as had deposited with us or standing it to the point.

I have the honor to be respectfully

Sir

Permit me to submit for consideration some further remarks in addition to those addressed to the Department on the 9th of July, in regard to the change in the devices and inscription on our gold coin issued under the late Act of Congress. The subjected ~~have not~~ ^{have not} ~~been~~ ^{been} ~~so~~ ^{so} ~~far~~ ^{far} ~~as~~ ^{as} ~~my~~ ^{my} ~~observations~~ ^{observations} ~~extend~~ ^{extend} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~point~~ ^{point} ~~as~~ ^{as} ~~yet~~ ^{yet} ~~made~~ ^{made} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~this~~ ^{this} ~~respect~~ ^{respect} ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~their~~ ^{their} ~~effect~~ ^{effect} ~~very~~ ^{very} ~~limited~~ ^{limited} ~~at~~ ^{at} ~~any~~ ^{any} ~~moment~~ ^{moment} ~~appears~~ ^{appears} ~~already~~ ^{already} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~have~~ ^{have} ~~ceased~~ ^{ceased} ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~topic~~ ^{topic} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~be~~ ^{be} ~~nearly~~ ^{nearly} ~~abandoned~~ ^{abandoned}. I ~~am~~ ^{am} ~~however~~ ^{however} ~~with~~ ^{with} ~~some~~ ^{some} ~~concern~~ ^{concern} ~~indications~~ ^{indications} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~an~~ ^{an} ~~impression~~ ^{impression} ~~entertained~~ ^{entertained} ~~in~~ ⁱⁿ ~~other~~ ^{other} ~~quarters~~ ^{quarters} ~~that~~ ^{that} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~changes~~ ^{changes} ~~referred~~ ^{referred} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~being~~ ^{being} ~~designed~~ ^{designed} ~~only~~ ^{only} ~~for~~ ^{for} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~purpose~~ ^{purpose} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~distinguishing~~ ^{distinguishing} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~new~~ ^{new} ~~coinage~~ ^{coinage} ~~from~~ ^{from} ~~former~~ ^{former} ~~issues~~ ^{issues} ~~of~~ ^{of} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~present~~ ^{present} ~~year~~ ^{year} ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~to~~ ^{to} ~~be~~ ^{be} ~~replaced~~ ^{replaced} ~~by~~ ^{by} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~former~~ ^{former} ~~devices~~ ^{devices} ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~inscriptions~~ ^{inscriptions} ~~when~~ ^{when} ~~this~~ ^{this} ~~special~~ ^{special} ~~necessity~~ ^{necessity} ~~shall~~ ^{shall} ~~have~~ ^{have} ~~ceased~~ ^{ceased}. Certainly they have been highly useful for the purpose of distinction alone, but my aim and hope looks beyond this, to the ultimate confirmation of these modifications of our coinage, as proper in themselves, and which before the year shall expire, will I am persuaded have entirely approved themselves to the discernment and right feeling of the public. I throw me in support of these views to recur briefly to the original provisions of the law touching the points in question, and to the deviations subsequently made from the simplicity of those provisions and the early coinage founded thereon.

The Bill for establishing the Mint originated in the Senate. When sent to the House it contained a provision that the coins should exhibit on the face thereof, the head of the President for the time being with the numerical order of the Presidency. The House made no alteration in the Senate's Bill except by substituting for this clause the following "an eagle with an inscription of the word Liberty ~~and the word Eagle~~". On the reverse of each of the gold and silver coins the Act prescribes that there shall be "the figure or representation of an Eagle with the inscription United States of America". On the reverse of the upper coins it is directed that there shall be "an inscription which shall express the denomination of the piece namely cent or half cent". These are the only devices and inscriptions prescribed in the Act. The law passed April 2nd 1792 and ~~the above~~ provisions remain unaltered to the present day.

What was intended in the law by an inscription emblematic of Liberty, associated with an inscription of the word Liberty, ~~which was not intended~~, may be ^{generally} inferred from the manner in which this provision was executed under the immediate eye of the authority from which the Act emanated. To illustrate ^{the} ~~the~~ ^{forwarded} a variety of specimens of our coins issued at an early period.

The first of the specimens to which I would ask attention is No. 1, a cent of 1793 the date of the first issue. The emblem is a female head uncovered the hair flowing unrestrained, and the inscription "Liberty" above the head. We find here no cap. Nos 2 and 3 are cents of 1794 and 1795. On each of these is a cap, ^{identical to the Liberty or Liberty cap} of a different form. Very properly however it is not placed on the head of the figure, but appears borne on a wand projecting backwards, as if sustained on the shoulder.

Nos 4 & 5 are two specimens of the issues of 1796, one having the cap borne as before the other ~~without~~ without it, showing that the cap was discarded within that year, and the simplicity of the original emblem resumed viz a female head uncovered ^{with an inscription} of the word Liberty. From that period no cap has appeared on the copper coins, the only class of coins in which the cap was ever introduced, whatever circumstances induced the temporary adoption of that specific emblem, had it seems been reconsidered and abandoned. Nos 6 & 7 are specimens of the subsequent copper coinages, of these No. 7 a specimen of the date of 1814, it will be perceived has a head of Liberty ^{in style} ~~that was introduced on the gold coins~~.

The fashion of our early silver coins will be seen in Nos 8-11-12 ~~13~~ which are specimens of the year 1794, the date of the first issues, and of 95-98 and 99, exhibiting a female head with the formation of the hair somewhat varied, but all without a cap of any description either on the head or otherwise. In 1805 or 1806 the head dress of a lady of this city considered as a pleasing example of the fashion of the time, was copied by the Engraver of the Mint on the ^{the} ~~the~~ silver coins from a miniature placed before him, as alluded to in my letter of the 9th of July. This head dress, of which No. 15 presents a specimen has been continued on the silver coins from that period. At the Mint when the above origin of it was familiarly known, it was never regarded as the Liberty cap, nor would it, at that period ~~when~~ the Administration of

Mr. Jefferson, have been permitted on the head of the figure of so considered. This is plain from his opinion most emphatically expressed on the unsuitableness of this emblem as heretofore mentioned, in my communication before referred to.

Among the specimens is a half Eagle of the ~~year~~ 1795, the date of the first issue, in which the head of Liberty is covered by a cap, resembling in a small degree the Pileus though very distinguishable from it. This continued ~~to be the case~~ ^{as I have stated in my former communication} was adopted for the gold. That the cap on the ~~early~~ gold coins was not intended as the Pileus, is strongly inferable from the circumstance, that the genuine Pileus after appearing for a time on the upper coins, under the Administration of General Washington, was under the same Administration ~~discarded~~ ^{discarded}. Moreover the opinion of Mr. Jefferson again presents itself in ~~the~~ ^{this} point, ~~that it must have been~~ ^{that it was regarded as the Pileus, the other from the head of the figure of Liberty under his administration, had any surmise been entertained} ^{present appearance of the new gold the head of the figure of Liberty} that it was regarded as the Pileus, the other from the head of the figure of Liberty under his administration, had any surmise been entertained that it was regarded as the Pileus, the other from the head of the figure of Liberty under his administration, had any surmise been entertained

The above references and illustrations appear conclusively to prove that the ~~cap~~ ^{cap} was not the unsuitable emblem of Liberty, contemplated in the Act of Congress establishing the Mint, nor approved as a suitable emblem by either of the early Administrations of the Government, for there does not appear the slightest grounds for imagining that Mr. Adams held an opinion on this subject differing from those of General Washington and Mr. Jefferson.

The above observations have relation only to the improvement in the face of the coin by the removal of the cap, in regard to the motto "E Pluribus Unum". They leave to refer to my former remarks on this subject, merely repeating now that after various attempts, without success, to dispose of this motto so as not to interfere too sensibly with the legal device, detracting at the same time from the beauty of the coin by an extra and crowded inscription, it was considered proper to omit it, and then return to the just taste and simplicity of the legal provisions in regard to the reverse as well as the face of the coin. They leave now however to invite ~~the~~ ^{the} of the mintage of a few of our early gold and silver coins, in illustration of the opinion entertained ~~by~~ ^{during} the Administration under which the Mint was instituted, and the discrimination in regard to the employment of this motto, observable in the early acts of the Government.

By a resolution of Congress under the Confederation passed in 1782, certain devices and inscriptions were adopted for the great seal of the United States. Among them it was prescribed that there should be on one side an Eagle bearing in his beak a scroll inscribed with the motto "E Pluribus Unum" - the inscription "United States of America" embracing the same general idea was not however prescribed on the seal.

In 1789 the Congress of the Federal Government adopted the great seal of the Confederation with its device and motto unchanged, and in 1792 established the Mint and instituted ~~the~~ ^{the} directing on the reverse thereof, the figure of an Eagle with the inscription "United States of America" but the motto in question pertain'd solely to the seal alone. In ^{these} ~~the~~ instances, deliberative legislation assigns to the seal the motto without the words United States, and to the coin the words United States without the motto. The presumption is strong that they regarded the one as superfluous where the other was employed. Or is it credible that this was the result of mere inadvertence in the sagacious men of that day. I am persuaded that it resulted from a true feeling that all which is superfluous in regard to this subject is wrong.

The half Eagle of 1795 it will be noticed is without the motto. Its first introduction on our gold coins was, ~~probably~~ ~~1797~~ ~~on the month of April 1797~~ ~~1796~~ ~~on the month of April 1796~~ ~~on the month of April 1796~~
No. 14 contains two specimens of that date one without and with the Motto.
On our silver coins it will be observed the motto first appears in 1799, all the specimens of previous dates, including 1795 are without it. Whether it was introduced on any other authority than the names of the Engraver does not appear.

When, from ^{some peculiar} ~~the~~ purpose of restoring our coinage to its first simplicity, had after much deliberation ~~was adopted~~ ~~it was determined~~ ~~that it should~~ ~~be adopted~~ ~~in~~ ~~its~~ ~~execution~~ ~~was deferred~~ ~~under~~ ~~an~~ ~~impression~~ ~~which~~ ~~began~~ ~~about~~ ~~the~~ ~~same~~ ~~time~~ ~~to~~ ~~be~~ ~~entertained~~ ~~that~~ ~~the~~ ~~alloy~~ ~~of~~ ~~our~~ ~~gold~~ ~~and~~ ~~silver~~ ~~coins~~ ~~and~~ ~~their~~ ~~ratio~~ ~~to~~ ~~each~~ ~~other~~ ~~ought~~ ~~to~~ ~~be~~ ~~modified~~ ~~on~~ ~~an~~ ~~occasion~~ ~~more~~ ~~fit~~ ~~for~~ ~~executing~~ ~~the~~ ~~above~~ ~~design~~. In 1831, however, it was found necessary to comply with ^{the} ~~the~~ pressing demand for quarter dollars, and that denomination of our coins being peculiarly in need of redemption from the undue expansion of its disk, it was determined to correct this fault in the new coin, ^{by} ~~by~~ a suitable contraction of the diameter of this coin. This contraction rendered it particularly convenient to discard the extraneous motto. And will not repeat the correspondence with the Department which occurred in regard to this topic at the time nor farther to refer to that part of my letter of July last which relates thereto. It is due however to the occasion to remark, that this omission of the motto from the quarter dollar has now been before the public nearly four years, and approved, if not wholly without dissent, at least with a unanimity not to be surpassed in regard to any question capable of admitting two opinions. Among the specimens preserved in the quarter dollar of the former issue of the mint, the motto is still to be seen.

It is however obvious to remark that though the cap of Liberty ^{appears} ~~is~~ on the most unquestionable grounds to be forever bedded on the head of the figure representing Liberty, as an unfit emblem of the union of the United States it may not necessarily follow that the cap should not be introduced in some other manner. On this aspect of the question I would respectfully observe that if this emblem can be dispensed with, as in fact it has thus far been dispensed with, except on the occasions during a very brief period, there are good reasons against its admission. The cap emblem properly ^{relates} to a full length figure of Liberty. It should be borne on a ~~large~~ ^{large} ~~figure~~ ^{figure} sustained in her hand or laid on the pedestal on which she stands. When detached from the figure, I perceive no place ^{from} in which to dispose of it with tolerable effect. As borne on the cents in 1794 & 1795 it is incongruous and unsightly. A full length figure is however well suited for a coin from the consideration ^{that it must be produced in the most advantageous manner} proportioned to the whole, believing that the Pilens is not an essential emblem of Liberty, that it is not the emblem intended in the law and that it must to some extent impair the beauty

You will ~~please~~ ^{from time to time} excuse my troubling you again on this subject. As a matter which concerns National taste it will not ~~be~~ ^{be} regarded as unimportant. Permit me to request that you will have the goodness to present the

Sir

I had the honor to receive your letter of 9th instant.

I am quite sensible that Longrofs ought to have made provision for supplying at least the principal cities with correct copies of the standard weight of the Mint, and that we have no claim on the services of Mr Echfeldt.
His time is sufficiently engrossed by his official duties. Yet, without his kind assistance, the weight cannot be adjusted to the standard, and the necessity of having at least one set properly adjusted for this city is obvious.

I will therefore avail myself of your kind offer and request you to have a set of weights extending from half a grain to five thousand dwts made by your best artists, to be, in conformity with your opinion, separate and not in a nest, and each, down to the one dwat, having a proper adaptation to lift it by, with an adjustment screw. And we will feel under considerable obligation to Mr Echfeldt.

to compare and adjust them to the standard weight, as early as his occupations will permit.

The deficiency you find in the standard of the gold coins of England and France is still greater than I had expected from the assays made at the respective mints of both countries of the coins of the other. I do not approve of the value at which gold has been rated by the last law, as I feel great apprehension that its ultimate effect will be to drive away silver and to diminish instead of increasing the amount of our metallic currency. But it is highly proper at all events that the foreign gold coins should be converted into coins of the United States, and I cannot perceive any object in making them current. If there is any, they ought at least to be rated at no greater value than our own coins, and I hope that you will be able, from your careful assays principally on large amounts, to ascertain and suggest before the next meeting of Congress the proper rate to be fixed by law, both for the French & the English coins.

Sir,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your communication on the subject of the change in the design and inscription on the gold coin issued under the authority of the Act of Congress passed in your belief of the 1st instant.

The President has been consulted on the subject and both he and myself agree with you in opinion, that the Chief of Liberty had better be omitted even to disfigure the coinage of the succeeding year or of several, than it be placed on a pole on one side of the head. The latter perhaps, be best.

On the subject of the inscription "E PLURIBUS UNUM" the President is perfectly indifferent whether it be reversed or not. I am still in favor of its inscription though it might perhaps, be done in smaller letters, to advantage as to appearance.

I remain very Respectfully

Dear Sir

We have had a set of weights made, intended as a standard set by which to regulate the weight of the Bank in this City, and as you kindly offered to have such a set regulated for us at the Mint, we shall forward them by the transportation line of this afternoon for that purpose, they are contained in a Box enclosed in a Case directed to you which the agents of the line will deliver to you at the Mint - as the weights of the several Banks in this City differ materially, it is very desirable that we should have a set upon which we can all rely as perfectly correct, and I shall esteem it a favor if you will have them adjusted & regulated as early as your convenience will admit, and it will afford us additional satisfaction if when completed, you will accompany them with your Certificate of their accuracy -

Will you please have the enclosed $50. note to Mr. E. Phelps as a compensation to him for the trouble this Commission will occasion him - will you please acknowledge the recd of the weights and advise me at what time they will probably be adjusted -

Remain very respectfully Yours etc. etc.

I have respectfully to inform the members of the Church I have been able to take of the question respecting the designs on our new gold coins my preference remains strong in favour of the simple pattern exhibited in the present specimen. But one regret is felt on this subject - that the views I have taken have not I fear secured your entire approbation.

If it is permitted ~~to~~ ^{to be} me to act according to my discretion in this case the gold worn ^{to be} ~~of~~ after the 31st December will bear the same device and inscriptions only as the half and quarter Eagles worn since the 31st July, with no change therein except what may arise from a more perfect finish of the dies. In this particular there is room for a higher degree of excellence when new original dies shall be executed with more ^{of the English} ~~care~~ than was allowable in the first

We have now ready about 10 Tons, having ^{an offer} expected for some part to receive a requisition.

Being uninformed of the amount that would be probably required & desiring to be in a situation to execute your orders without delay, we have been continuing the manufacture, and thereby a considerable amount has been accumulated. I herewith I forward a Table containing a List of European Gold Coins of a value not exceeding $1.50 as requested by the Department under date of the ~~25th~~ August - 5th September.

The latest date is given of the several coins as furnished by the foreign Tables, which may afford some indication as to the continuance of the issues thereof within late years.

None of the coins enumerated have, so far as known to me been at any time exhibited at the Mint - the authorities relied on for their weight and fineness of the coins ~~enumerated~~, from which their value under the late ~~Law~~ ^{Act} has been computed, are the works of Bonnycastle of Paris, and Savier of Geneva, together with Kelly's Coinist: the edition employed of this last work mentioned work is that of 1821, the latest that I have seen. It is to be observed however that both Kelly in 1821, ~~and~~ Savier whose ~~edition~~ ^{edition} of 1807, appear to rely very much on Bonnycastle, whose work was published in 1806, and who ~~appears~~ ^{must have} to have devoted himself to this inquiry with great assiduity, having given a well executed delineation of the heads and reverses.

any interest of the community, if a suitable period for preparation be assigned, after which the designated ^{Bank Notes} denominations shall progressively cease to be received.

England has ~~a~~ ^{quantity of paper} currency, essentially based on gold, silver being limited to payments not exceeding 40 shillings. None of the other nations of Europe make gold an indispensable element of their currency; and in some of them it is not, or recently was not, even a legal tender.
~~France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Greece, and Russia~~ ~~are equally a legal~~ ^{very highly metallic} tender for all amounts. The actual ^{metallic circulation} of France is, however, silver; gold being constantly at a premium, ^{owing} to the demands to sustain the peculiar currency of England.
Thus England, ~~being enabled to supply an abundant~~ ~~currency~~ ^{having none of the above advantages} ~~is~~ ^{based on gold} ~~because~~ ^{France, where the} ~~circulation~~ ~~is~~ ^{far more highly metallic than that of England, is satisfied} with a currency of silver.

This note was signed in the Mint and forwarded by the Mintmaster to the Secretary of the Treasury on the 24th Dec^r 1834.

* The sum under this head has been increased $44,300 above the actual value of the gold received which has probably arisen from undervaluation of the gold received. There was often a difference between the weight and the value of the gold received. The increase has been made in order to conform to the weight and value of the gold received.

Philadelphia Dec 19. 1834

Dear Sir

I have your favor of the 18. and have noticed with interest your remarks in reference to a determination of our Silver Com. ~~that~~ that I have believed you would certainly be opposed to, and one which I still hope that it will be found inexpedient & unnecessary to adopt.

I have recently addressed two Communications to the Secretary of the Treasury in relation to our Silver Com. and the operation of the Mint Act, to which with my permission I respectfully refer you. In these communications I have endeavored to show that our Silver Com. may be retained in the Country for our own Circulation without a resort to the measures you refer to. Whether I have at all succeeded in doing so, or whether the premises & Conclusions therein stated are in any degree correct I must leave to others to decide, but if it be true that the measure suggested will retain our Silver Coin, or in other words, will render them more more liable to exportation than Gold, which is all that should be either asked or granted, then it will certainly be admitted to be better than the measure of determination - being, in not questionable whether the latter in the manner proposed would not effect the object intended or aimed at?

I intend to believe that it would not - an examination of its practical operation will, I think disclose its defects, and I cannot think that it would be generally viewed with favor in any respect.

In answer to your enquiry as to the amount of Silver that this Bank would probably desire to have coined under the present law, and present operations of the mint, I can only say that it would necessarily be limited to an amount much less than it would be if more perfect facilities were afforded for more ready & abundant Coinage - But as I believe I have before mentioned to you, should our Legislature at the approaching Session prohibit the issue or circulation in this State of Bank Notes under $5. it will require in my opinion at least three Millions of Dollars in Silver Coin to supply the place of the Paper that will be withdrawn, and I consider it to be very desirable that a large proportion of the amount should be in Coin under $5. -

I shall be happy to hear from you whilst you are at Washington, and Remain my respectfully

Yours etc.

I forward herewith my account ^{for} for disbursements in making prompt ^{payment} of West Indigo at a deduction of half per cent under the provisions of the Act of April 20. 1792 & enclosing the same.

The statement renders exhibits the net sum found by one, and of the ~~gross~~ ^{gross} found, to the several depositories. We have proposed to accept prompt payment at the legal deductions. ~~the~~ ^{the} The procedure adopted ^{has been that of} a transfer of the certificate ~~by~~ ^{to} the Director, by the Depositor, on receiving the net value. The Director then becomes the holder of the certificate for the United States, and issues the usual acknowledgment where the certificate is ~~paid~~ ^{discharged} by the Treasurer of the United States after taxes.

The Account of the terms retained, like all deductions herefrom by the Treasurer in his Quarterly Returns - ~~being~~, ~~the other~~ ~~terms~~ retained out of deposits, ~~for~~ ~~to~~ to the credit of Profit & Loss -

This mode has been adopted for the purpose of avoiding all disturbance of the ordinary forms of the Annual Accounts as suggested by the Treasury, & that the Annual Accounts of the Department will be made complete by the application of the fund proposed for the purchase of land by being transferred to the account after all the other items

The certificates referred to, by their several members, where returned by the House of the Mint in two quarterly accounts, will be, it is presumed the most satisfactory vouchers to sustain the ~~statement~~ ^{respective claims} of my due & leave to pay however somewhat at a loss to provide for them later, in which a certificate may not be returned by the Treasury within the same quarter with my return of the purchase thereof from ~~which~~ ^{where} ~~it may arise~~ ^{it may arise} ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~the~~ ^{the} adjustments of my account ~~will~~ ^{would} be liable to ~~be~~ ^{be} delay. Some other form of voucher ~~will~~ ^{will} ~~be~~ ^{be} ~~therefore~~ ^{therefore} ~~to be submitted~~ ^{to be submitted}, in regard to which I shall wish to be advised.
In the mean time I forward herewith the several checks drawn on the fund in their order, with ^{the counters} ~~the~~ ^{certificates} of the same standing to the credit of the ~~fund~~ ^{against} being the whole amount applied for the object -

I am very respectfully

Dear Sir

I have favor of the D. & Rec. and I listen your remarks respecting Silver Coins and your suggestions concerning the Coinage for use during the present winter - I will now add remarks that I conceive to be of great importance that the Country should be supplied with more rapid and abundant with the Silver Coins of the U.S. than it has been and I think that it can be clearly shown that the interests of the Country require that a large proportion of the Coin to be supplied should be in the denomination of 25 Cents & under -

We have recd a further remittance of 25,000 Napoleons which we shall forward to the Mint in the course of 3 or 4 days for weighing and having weighed they passed for sale by the New Weight recently recd from the Mint, we find the weight exactly that of the former passed as returned by you about 8 days, I think and therefore it respects of you to ascertain whether there has not been found error at the Mint in weighing or returning the weight of these Pieces, for the 25000 at Philadelphia deposited on the 27th Oct. -

Washington Dec 2^d 1834

My dear Sir,

It so happened that I could not call on you, in person when in Philadelphia - I was obliged to use all possible dispatch in order to reach this city at the commencement of the season - My friend Mr. Clay of Alabama whom I found at the North-American told me that he should stop a day in your city and should visit the Mint before leaving it - I left for him, a letter directed to you, since he arrived he ^{has} told me that it was not handed to him by the pos. tender - - The principal object of my communication to you was to request that the officer of the Mint would pay for me $1000.00 in silver change - as small as can

- convenient - dinner - half dinner & 25¢ pieces - I wish that you would have the box directed to "Geo. Alcott Esq Cambridge N. H."

"To the care of Miss" James Read & Co
"Merchants

"Boston."

I will give a draft on Boston for the amount & will pay in this city as you shall wish - I should be greatly obliged to receive the accom-modation and I have to re-quest that you would write me information - how soon the packet can be made up and forwarded - My wish is that the box may be sent to Boston by the earliest opportunity -

With sentiments of high respect I am your

Dept of the Interior Oct 1. 1854

Dear Sir

The amount of Silver Coin of the denominations of 50 Cents & under now in the City being quite small & inadequate to supply the present demand and contemplating a greatly increased demand for these Coins for the coming season and desiring of obtaining as early as may be a further and more ample supply, it is proposed therefore that some of the Banks in the City should send to the mint for receiving about one million of Dollars in Silver to be coined into 50, 25, 10 & 5 Cent pieces, and I request of you the favor to inform me that if we shall complete the deposit of that amount at the mint by the 15. of the present month how long after that would it probably require for the Coinage thereof say $50,000 in Dollars & half Dollars, $500,000 in Quarter Dollars and an equal amount in half Dollars -

I am aware that your present means would not enable you to complete the Coinage within the period in which it will certainly be wanted, but presuming that you will ask for and obtain a large increase of appropriation, and that the Mint will soon be made amply effective, I desire to know the time required for the Coinage in case you should obtain an appropriation equal to your wishes -

Permit me to add that considering the time & circumstances as highly propitious for the Coinage of a large amount of Silver Change and believing that the wants of the Country will soon require it, I indulged the hope that the opportunity may be availed of and that the Mint may be adequate at an early day to furnish a full supply for the whole Country and as rapidly as it may be wanted, even if it should extend for a year or two to come to something like a Million of Dollars a Month as it may be required in the several denominations of 50c 25c 10c & 5 Cent pieces -

I am very respectfully, Yours Obedt Servt

Lincoln, N.C. November 27th 1884

Estimated Sir

Last Spring I sold a lot of Gold Dust to George C. Nichols about 150 Dwt. or 175 Dwt. Mr. Nichols did not know anything about the Gold, and I let him have it at a certain price, and if it lost at the Mint, I was to make up the loss, and if it gained, he was to pay me the gain, he deposited the Gold in the Mint in June or July last. I examined the Books when I was at the Mint in August last and from the calculation that I could make at that time I thought he had received about $15.00 more than he gave me for it, and he is only returning to me a gain of about $2.00; all that I must be fair dealing according to contract, and I am afraid Nichols does not. He did not draw the pay for the Gold until after the 1st of August last.

I am sure of the concern of Wm. C. Henderson who deposited Gold, Dust, Mullins & Co. in the mint, in the month of August last to the amount of $1004.00

Will you be so good as to give me a statement of the Gold deposited by George C.
Nichols as above stated, in such a manner, as I can compel the said Nichols to pay me my just rights, according to contract. If there is any charge for the above statement, call on Messrs. Reeves, Busch & Co. and show them this letter and they will pay for me.
Let me hear from you by the next mail. —

I am with due respect your obedient Servant. W. C.

Your letter of the 6th. enclosing a copy of one from W. H. Griswold Esq. was recd. this morning. The subject of which Mr. Griswold refers I have that the following are the facts.

The report of silver in granulation was made with several others of similar character and origin on the 22^d Dec. in making in all ten divisions each requiring a special certificate. Four of them were under the care of Mr. Altop a resident of this city in which were included those of Mr. Griswold. The former made which this bulletin was ~~presented~~ presented and the divided interest concerned in it demanded and received my careful attention on the part of the ~~the~~ officer by whom the reports were prepared as is apparent from the minutiae of the record.

In preparing the several parcels for assaying several days were spent. Mr. Altop's card of which became the subject of a particular assay and in many instances the assays were repeated in order to be further assured in regard to their weight. The small number of assays necessitated it appears to me than our hundred. Hence a delay greater than usual became unavoidable. These cards in general.

As far as priority could be claimed in regard to reports made by the same individual on the same day it appears that Mr. Altop had precedence of Mr. Griswold his deposit being continued first in regard to which there was no ^{other} authority, or admission - Mr. Alsop being alone ~~offered~~ charged with the subject. Mrs. A. read the Antislavery ~~Book~~ of the Report pertaining to his name on the 7th Nov^r I was informed. He called on the morning of the 9th Nov^r for the Antislavery of that with which followed to Mrs. G. This was not the ready but he was informed it would be ready at noon - it was ready earlier but Mrs. A. did not return ~~until~~ ^{you that} ~~it~~ ^{it} ~~was~~ ^{was} ~~not~~ ^{not} ~~ready~~ ^{ready} but called on the next and then read it. Probably, it reached Mrs.

G. soon after his letter was written.

Respected Sir

A gentleman of my acquaintance of acknowledged mechanical genius and well known as a theoretical and practical Engineer has shown to me the model of a piece of machinery by which every process of coining but that of miffling may be done with one and the same stroke. If some such improvement had not already been introduced in the Mint he requests (through me) to know from you how far such an improvement is desirable at the United States Mint. He seems satisfied that at least one half the manual labor of coining may be saved by it, and suggests the probability of its being so constructed that one machine may be ~~so arranged as to~~ suffice for every different kind of coin.

As such an improvement can be of but little service ~~but~~ except to government it struck me as ^{most} advisable to write on it, you and see how far such a machine ~~was~~ is needed - and the better to enable the gentleman to get advisedly on the subject, before introducing his machine to the

Your report on the affairs of Commerce has been perused some time since, & I enclose you a copy [Doc. 62], as well as one of the report on the operations of the Mint for 1834. On the subjects of your letter generally, I will speak with the gentlemen to whom you refer. The Secy of the Treasury communicated to the Committee of the Ways & Means your letter upon the proposed Branches of the Mint, with a general remark that altho he differed in some particulars from you, the difference was not such as to make it material to specify it.
The whole has gone to the printer, & when laid on our table I will send you a copy.

Dear Sir

I should be pleased to acknowledge the recd of your favor of the 19th and altho' I do not now propose to discuss the merits of the propositions or remarks contained in my late communication to the Sec^y of the Treasury and yourself, as that would probably be considered at this time to be useless or unnecessary, still as it appears by your last letter that I have been misapprehended or at least that some of my remarks have not been understood in the sense and meaning that I intended to convey, I consider it proper to endeavor to correct the misapprehension, and I beg leave therefore to offer you a few remarks for that purpose —

You seem to think that in my letter to the Sec^y of the Treasury there is intimated that I had misapprehended your suggestion of the expediency of limiting the deposit of Silver at that time to the sum of $200,000, and you explain to me your meaning, perhaps you intended to convey in making the suggestion, I am enabled therefore to assure you that I did not misapprehend you for it is in conformity with your explanation that I wish understood you, and let way to the facts and Circumstances, necessarily resulting from that state of things that I wished to call the attention of the Secy of the Treasury. I was desirous that he should understand that with the best disposition & the greatest exertion on your part, Coupled with the most efficient and equitable arrangement that you could make, the alliot may, and would be unable and inadequate with its present means to supply Silver Coins either in sufficient quantity to meet the demand or within suitable time to save the public Con-venience, and consequently that the interests of the Country require that Measures should be adopted to remedy the evil. — He was not that you did not or could not coin for the Bank of America or for the City of N. Y. as we wished, but it was that you did not nor could not coin for the Country as the Public Interest required, or in other words that the Coining Power was wholly inadequate to the just wants and best interests of the Country, and therefore it was desirable and expedient that it should be increased. — Such was my object and I think that I do express the sentiment to facts or to particular Cases may meet by way of illustration and here let me beg you to believe that I consulted no private or particular interest, nor local feeling, my aim & object was to promote the general good.

It is an undoubted fact that the Supply of Silver Coins from the alliot has not been equal to the demand and it is also evident that we have good reason to believe that a much larger Supply will soon be required and demanded, and in stating these things to the Secy of the Treasury, I did hope that it would be readily conceded that the means of Supply should be consequently and adequately enlarged. — as a further inducement for the adoption of that Measure, I suggested the expedient and briefly endeavored to show that the interests of the Country would be promoted by Coining a large proportion of the Silver which should hereafter be deposited at the alliot into quarter Dollars & the smaller Coins, and I stated the grounds upon which I made the suggestion, and the reasons which induced me to consider it a judicious & proper Measure. — and I must say that I still consider it under present Circumstances and with the prospect before us, a Measure of great if not what important to the Country, and it is in reference to this point I assure you that I feel the greatest solicitude. — It seems however that on this topic also I have not been correctly understood, which I regret the more because I should otherwise have hoped for your concurrence in the view that I have taken of the Subject, and should in that case have

Confidently expecting that the measure would be adopted -

If the opportunity then hereafter be afforded me I shall be pleased to endeavor to make myself understood by you on this subject even if it shall be to enable you to convince me that I am wrong - but I think that the result would be otherwise, and that you would concur with me in the opinion, that the measure would be "an important auxiliary in furnishing and sustaining a sound currency & in promoting the best interests of the Country."

I am very respectfully

Yours obly

You have given us what you conjectured & what would be the probable value of each in proportion to the whole - but this is on the supposition we presume if not of course the result would differ

New York 3. Jan. 1835.

Hon. Levi Woodbury, Secy of the Treasury.

Sir,

On the 22nd Sept. we deposited in the U States Mint at Philadelphia, about 30,000 Dollars in Dollars and Plate, to be received for Bank of America, who agreed to pay us the same on presentation a Mint certificate. Up to this day we have not been able to get a certificate of the assay - delay in giving out certificates is greater at the U States Mint than at any other in the world. - We apprehend delay & vexation in getting certificates is so great that many merchants will send their Bullion direct to London for sale in lieu of bringing it to the U States.

We state these facts to you in the hopes that the Treasury Department will make the needful arrangements to insure a prompt dispatch of business at the present Mint, or such other remedy as the Government may deem proper.

If a Branch of the Mint could be established in this City it would be a great convenience to merchants trading to South America and other importers of Gold and Silver Bullion.

It is believed that three fourths of all the precious metals imported into the U States are received at the port of New York.

It is attended with great expense, risk delay, and loss of Interest to send it to Philadelphia.

wait one month for a Certificate of assay and 3 months more for the money.

If a Branch of the Mint was established in this city, the saving of expense, risk and delay, and facilities afforded to importers of Gold & Silver, would greatly increase the importations.

With great respect
Geo. M. Obert Sent

Honoured Sir!

Personally unknown to you, you will have the kindness to excuse the liberty I take in addressing you. — I see by the newspapers that Congress is about to establish a Branch of the United States mint in the Gold Region, by which if it should pass my business here would be displaced; In this case I beg to know if you could not make use of my son Augustus. — He is educated to oversee a large Establishment, as to his knowledge of the business, refining, assaying &c and all the branches of the above business, has a good deal of mechanical skill, is a very good character and is of easy temper about 25 years of age. He is a citizen of United States two years ago and I am confident in all respects, that he would transact his business much to your satisfaction, which would secure him a safe place for his lifetime.

It seems the gold mines here are just now beginning, great part of the mining direct their attention to the veins I have on my land several large other veins which contain gold as small as the precipitate of gold; my machines will go into operation in a few days.
There is two mines in this region viz: Silvercreek by Brindleton, and some of the Pacolet river, mines which contain $\frac{1}{2}$ & $\frac{3}{4}$ parts of Silver as alloy in the gold, besides the silver which I have not taken out, as it was so small a quantity. I would be very much pleased to have your opinion as to my having done right or not.
Since the last gold act has passed we have coined a out 350,000, Dols of gold and have enjoyed ever since the beginning the full confidence of the miners more so than could be expected.

Thus I see I am intruding on your patience for which you will please to pardon

Honoured Sir!

Dear Sir

Having expressed last year an Opinion in a letter to some of my Constituents that the gold Bill would raise the value of gold nearly 65 per cent & that the probability was that if the price of gold before the passage of the Bill was 94 cts per pennyweight it would probably rise to near 150, now the object ^{of this note is to give} ~~of this note is to give~~ some information on the following points 1 What was the increase per cent upon the value of gold by the passage of the gold Bill? 2 What was the average price of Georgia gold taking the highest market price before the passage of the Bill? 3 What is the price upon the same now?

Your early reply to the above enquiries will very much oblige

In the event of the withdrawal from circulation of Bank Notes of a denomination of less than $5 which will, probably, soon be effected in some of the States, an additional supply of Gold and Silver coins of small denomination will be required to supply their place.

I have, therefore, to request that, as far as the means at your disposal, and time will permit, the coinage at the Mint may be confined to quarter eagles and silver coins of a denomination less than the half dollar, unless the Depositor specially request those of higher denominations. which even if fairly fully imitated would at least be thus for a public injury that the purpose of degrading in part the expe-ses of the Mint by the profit on issuing small silver coins would be defeated. Enquiries in her regulations of 1816 respecting the mintion of Law ~~and that with the first issue of~~ ^{perfection of the currency.}

The waste of our small coins is partly through their employment in the arts as being convenient for subdivision, and partly by exportation for use as change among communities ~~of~~ ^{other} ~~Spain~~ ^{Spanish America}. It is understood that they are exported to Spanish America and still more certainly to Canada. In regard to their use by the artists and their export to Spanish America it seems probable that the diminution referred to of 4 grains in 104 would sufficiently correct the procedure as to their employment in Canada it is proper to notice one circumstance touching the demand for them in that quarter.

By a British order in Council of the year 1825 for the purpose of securing the currency of the English silver and copper coins in the colonies it is provided that where the Spanish dollar is by law or usage a legal tender ~~for~~ ^{for} shillings and four pence in British silver coins shall be rated as of the value of the Spanish dollar. The intrinsic value of that amount in those coins under existing regulations is $94\frac{10}{100}$ cts. This corresponds to the foreign exchange ~~of~~^{before present} of a fraction over six per cent. It would appear however that in regard to the colonies there is no limitation ~~for which there can be a limit under the order now in force~~ as to amount in England the limitation of the legal tender of silver coins it will be recollected is 40 shillings. ~~under the last edition of Muller's pamphlet a note of 10 shillings was set at the free rate.~~

Under the above regulations a British Shilling ~~is~~^{was} worth ~~the~~ⁱⁿ 1816 the intrinsic value of which in coin of the U. S. is $21\frac{7}{10}$ cents passes ^{offered} for 23 cents. According to this proportion our dime would be worth $10\frac{6}{10}$ cents and would no doubt be readily received at that rate but it is understood that to a considerable extent they are received on a par with the English sixpence which is equivalent to a valuation of 11½ cents

Dear Samuel Stone

Sir,

Pardon me Sir, for the liberty I now take, not having the pleasure of an acquaintance with you, in recommending the bearer of this, Mr Benjamin Sander. He informs me that he is about applying to you for ^{permission to refine the surveying of the city} a ~~surveyor in the city~~. I have known Mr Sander for many years, & can say much in his favour. His moral habits have always been correct, combined with active industry & mechanical ingenuity. I feel very confident Sir, that should he obtain his object, he will give you great satisfaction.

The contents of the two bags were compared with the latter assumption - It would have proved that the whole weight consisted of hundred dollars ~~the~~ which had perhaps been returned roughly ~~to~~ as equal to Specimen Dollars, thus are hence worth only from 94 to 96 cents. The other silver consisted ^{one piece of} of silver from ~~the~~ of various bullions the ~~real value of which~~ ~~is not known~~ ~~a subject of only vague conjecture~~ ~~which~~ ~~the~~ ~~competition could~~ ~~be~~ ~~this~~ only be a subject of conjecture until addressed by an assay - I have examined the articles one after another ~~I see~~ and have no doubt that the result has been exactly given in the analytical process.

Dear Sir,

A subcommittee of the Ways Means have requested me to make an inquiry of you, in regard to a matter which they may perhaps connect with the proposition for silver money. If it shall be deemed expedient to debase, or alloy to a greater degree, some of the smaller denominations of coin, to which of these coins should this greater alloy be confined, and what extent of debasement will best answer the end of keeping them in circulation, and be the most convenient for coinage? Does it occur to you that any advantage can arise from a coinage of 8ths & 6ths of a dollar, either alloy with, or in exclusion of, deniers & half-deniers? A difficulty has been suggested in the way of the extension of the decimal divisions so far as our currency is actually concerned. The dollar is the principal point of reference in adjustments of value, whether it be yards of cloth, or pounds of sugar, or any weight or measure of any thing - the subdivisions of weight & measure with us, are not decimal but in halves, fourths, eighths &c - and these subdivisions and perhaps beyond the reach of change. When you get below the quarter of a dollar, the divisions of weight & measure do not coincide with the divisions of coin, and and the consequence is, that either the dime, & half-dime are used in connection with the copper coin, very inconveniently, or by common consent they pass for eighties, & sometimes. In Alabama I understand that a dime is what we call an eleven penny bit, and many are earned thus for the first, and there are other parts of the country where the coin gives way to the fixed habits of the people in regard to divisions of weight measure. - This suggestion is stated to you hastily, as the whole letter is written, that you may transmit before you, for what it is worth.

I should be glad to hear from you as soon as your convenience will permit. Your reply will be ready to the Committee, but not franked.

Let me also ask, whether it will not be necessary to have in the Branch Mints, precisely the same cups of assayers that we now have in the Grand at Philad.?

Very truly yours early in November last for two thousand Dollars in Silver half Dollars for the Massachusetts Bank. at Boston the application was made personally

Sir We have received your esteemed favor of yesterday and are very much obliged thereby but do not yet understand whether the mint will sell Standard or foreign silver at the proportionate rate of $15 for 13 1/2 Troy or not. Encouraged by your kindness we now also ask if Standard silver, ^{at that rate} would be returned to depositors of Bullion or Plate Piece if required instead of coin? and referring to the following return of Plate Piece from the Mint, viz ask you to be good enough to explain if the 2038. 10 Dwt was the weight of the parcel of Plate Piece rec^d or whether it was the weight of Silver produced, which reduced to fine was 1987 1/2, which made equal to Standard would with the addition of the Alloy have weighed enough to have produced at $15 for 13 1/2 the sum of $2533.50. otherwise the 1987 1/2 from below is credited at about $1.27 1/2 p lb. Dear Sir, Standard Silver procured in coinage at the Mint $15 for 13 ounces Troy, which is a very low price for coin since 115 ³⁵/₁₀₀ cents per ounce. The delay of coinage being in operation at this time at nearly 60 days.

made "as soon as the value is ascertained" at a price

If business be given than Standard the delay required is charged to the Depositor - if in

The Director of the Mint of Bogota being desirous of perfecting the operations of that Establishment begs General McAffee will have the goodness to obtain for him thro' the medium of some friend in the United States, the particulars, specifications and objects hereunder mentioned.

1st — What is the method employed in the Mint of the United States for melting gold & silver? I believe it is melted in furnaces and I wish to procure exact drawings of same with their dimensions so as to be enabled to construct them here on the same plan. Please to state the number of pieces of Iron of which it is composed for doors, covers of the flues, bars &c. so that we may give orders to have them constructed in Philadelphia according to the model to be furnished; — please also state what kind of fuel is used with you in melting Gold & Silver. —

2nd — What kind of crucibles are employed in the Mint of the United States for melting Gold and Silver? I wish to obtain a crucible of each kind to serve as a model. In the mint of Bogota we use clay, and we are desirous of ascertaining which material is considered the best and where it can be procured. If a ladle or any other instrument is used for taking out the melted Gold and Silver from the crucibles, please annex a model or drawing for the like purpose. — 3th — What thickness is given the plates or bars of Gold and Silver when they come out of the molds in which they are cast as soon as the metal is melted and before passing it under the cylinders in order to ^{reduce} ~~reduce~~ ^{the plates} ~~the plates~~ required thickness for casting out the coins.

4th — What kind of moulds are used in the Mint of the United States? Please annex a model of one to serve for Doubloons and one for Dollars.

5th — What kind of furnaces are used for annealing or heating the plates or bars of Gold and Silver when they pass through the steel cylinders to be reduced in thickness and cast into coins? I wish to procure exact drawings of such furnaces with all the apparatus belonging thereto in like manner with those of the melting furnaces so as to be enabled to construct ~~them~~ here, but the whole of the work will have to be made in the United States. I am moreover desirous of ascertaining which fuel is deemed the most suitable for the furnaces as we have here wood, charcoal, and pit-coal.

Treasury Department
10th. Feb. 1835-

Dear Sir,

In consequence of communications, which have been made to this Department, it is desirable to know what are considered by the present officers of the Mint as its "secretings"? how great is their value annually? and in what manner and to what extent is it accounted for, either to the depositors, or the government?

On the subject of alloy in the coin or bullion, it is desirable to know, whether the value of it is uniformly ascertained and allowed to the depositor; or, if not to them, what disposition is made of it? and whether the alloy is in many cases of such a value as to render it proper to have it accounted for either to the depositor or the government?

An early explanation as to these enquiries will confer a favour on the Department —

Respectfully Yours

To Samuel Mifflin

Director of the Mint

Dear Sir,

On the 26th of February last I had the honor to address you a letter accompanied by one from the Hon. Mr. Woodbury Secretary of the Treasury, with which I took the liberty to enclose you a Bill of Lading to receive from the Captⁿ of the Brig to Mexico, now lying at Philadelphia, a box marked L. containing in 8 pieces, 222 marks of 18 ounces of plate fine (silver bullion) for the purpose of having it coined, after which you would be pleased to send me a Draft for the amount on the U.S. Branch Bank Washington.

Not yet having had any notice of the receipt of my letter, and being ignorant of the service I asked of you is compatible with your usual occupatimes. I now trouble you again, requesting of you the favor to let me know if the above mentioned box of plate pins is now in your possession, and whether I have unintentionally charged you with too troublesome a business: if so, I shall immediately commission some one of my friends in that city to relieve you.

I purposely omitted to send you the $28 & some cents, the amount of the freight, because as the generations of the Mint are generally prompt & rapid, it seemed to me that this would not be a matter of embarrassment either with the Captain or his assignees.

I hope you will excuse me for giving you so much trouble, and will be glad if an occa-

L.S. M. Gordon on his communication of the 29th states that it has been suggested by many well informed Mechanics, but particularly by Mr. Michlams that the work would be much better done, if separate contracts could be made - 1st for the Brick Work of all kinds - together with the plastering - 2nd all the Stone Work - 3 all similar & carpenter work &c - This suggestion is submitted to your consideration.
